• Producer prices in French industry: +1.0% in January

On all markets (French market and foreign markets), producer prices in industry increased by 1.0% in January 2017 after +0.9% in December 2016. Year over year, they shot up: +3.6% after +1.6%.

FRENCH MARKET: +0.7%

In January, French producer prices in industry for the French market continued to grow sharply (+0.7% after +0.9% in December, +3.3% year over year). Prices went up in all major sectors except for transport equipment where prices were steady.

Moderate rise in prices for refined petroleum products

In January, prices for refined petroleum products slowed markedly after a strong rebound in December (+1.7% after +15.3%). All prices for refined petroleum products increased, especially those of naphtha and kerosene. Year over year, refined petroleum products prices rocketed (+63.1%).

Sharp growth for other energy products

In January, the prices for mining and quarrying products, energy and water sped up (+1.8% after +0.6% in December) particularly thanks to electricity prices. Gas prices also rose, particularly because of the raise of regulated tariffs on 1st January.

Slight increase in food prices

In January, food prices increased slightly (+0.2%) after two months of virtual stability. The rise was mainly attributable to prepared and preserved fish (+2.8%) and to dairy products (+1.9%). Year over year, prices went up by 0.2%.

Slight acceleration in prices for “other industrial products”

The prices for “other industrial products” accelerated a little in January (+0.5% after +0.2%). The prices for rubber products and those for basic metals and metallic products continued to rise, following the raw material price increases. The prices of “other manufactured products” also increased.

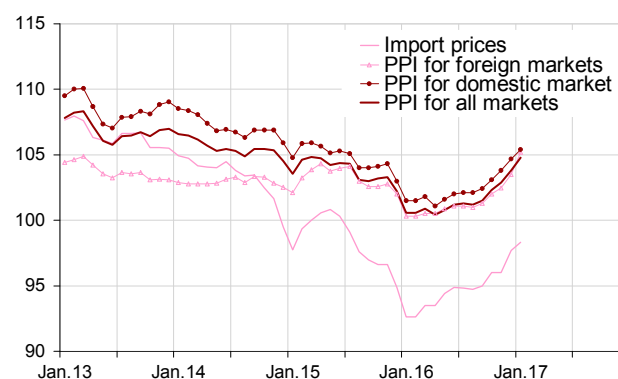

FOREIGN MARKETS: +1.6%

The producer prices of French industrial products sold on foreign markets picked up in January (+1.6% after +1.0%). Prices rose in all major sectors except transport equipment. Year over year, export prices grew by 3.8%.

• Import price indices of industrial products: +0.6% in January

In January, the import prices of industrial products slowed down (+0.6% after +1.8% in December). Most products became more expensive. However, prices for transport equipment were stable and those for electrical and electronical equipment fell a little. Import prices were significantly higher than a year ago (+5.5%), especially those of refined petroleum products.
